CONFIDENTIAL SPECIAL REPORT

Learn how to end your IRS problems. Many taxpayers are at the end of their rope with no place to turn for solutions to ALL types of IRS problems. You and your family can put these IRS problems behind you. So do not delay! Read this special report today!

Have You Received that Dreaded Letter from the IRS that Says you Owe Taxes?

Hi! My name is Pierre G Philantrope. I am a tax lawyer and an enrolled agent, licensed by the IRS to represent taxpayers with unlimited restrictions nationwide. I have over 25 years of experience in the field of taxation, the last 10 years of which I have dedicated to helping taxpayers like you who find themselves at odds with the IRS.

Do you Wish your IRS Problems will Just Go Away?

Have you received a notice from the IRS only to leave it in your kitchen counter, on your desk, or worse, hidden under a stack of bills? Are you afraid to even open the letter from the IRS? Unfortunately, those letters from the IRS will just keep coming. Your problem will not go away!

Have You been Using the Hope and Pray System to Solve Your IRS Problems?

That system does not work.! IRS problems have a way of ruining all aspects of your life. As time goes by, the IRS adds salt to your wounds by adding penalties what you already owed. It is like the meter in a taxicab; the counter keeps going, adding increased charges to that IRS debt, even when you are standing still. Many times, the penalties and interest end up being more than the actual taxes you owe the IRS.

If I Cannot Afford paying My Taxes, Why Do They Keep Adding Penalties?

The IRS does not like being ignored, so this is how they get your attention. They want to be sure you know they are not going away. It is like they haunt you their ongoing letters. If you do not respond to them, the penalties they tack on are like a club they are hitting you over the head with. Penalties are just the beginning of what they can do to your life.

What Else Can the IRS Do to Make my Life Miserable?

The IRS has a lot of power over your life. They not only can freeze your bank accounts, which is right, but they can seize all the money in your bank accounts, too. They can garnish your wages. They can legally take as much as 75% of your net paycheck. Can you live with 25% of your net pay? The IRS think and expects you can! Besides slapping bank levies and wage garnishments on you, they can put a lien on your house, making it nearly impossible to borrow money against it to pay off your IRS debt. And if you sell your house, the IRS get their money first from any equity there is. Federal tax liens prevent you from borrowing any money, except for those high charging money stores located in min malls. An IRS lien makes it harder to rent an apartment, get a car, or obtain any kind of credit. An IRS lien can jeopardize your job! And believe it or not, the IRS has the authority to show up and knock on your door! Make no mistake – the IRS is the most brutal collection agency on the planet.

So, it is Legal for the IRS to Take the Money
From My Bank Account, from Paycheck, and Sell my House, Car, and All My Possessions?

In one simple word – YES. The IRS has unlimited power. And besides that, you might still owe them money! So even if you have no asset or money today, in the event that you acquire the good thing in life in the future, the IRS will just take it away from you and keep it for themselves.

Why is The IRS So Brutal?

Sadly, this wonderful country is in a lot of debt. The mortgage fiasco, the Wall Street fiasco, the great Recession, the COVID-19 pandemic, let us face it, someone has to pay the bills for our country. And that is all paid from taxes. The government wants their money, and they want it now! They are the only creditor in the world that does not need a court order to take your stuff! And they have a lot of leverage to do whatever they want. They do not have to ask for permission to take your money from the bank or garnish your wages. They can even take your personal property, your car, real estate, motorcycles, jet skis, snowmobiles, boats, jewelry, IRAs, 401Ks, and the list goes on. If you owe them, they will collect. And they are not going away.

But What If Haven't Filed Taxes in Years?

I did not Mean Not to File My Tax return.

It Was Just One Time,

But Then the Next Year I Was Too Afraid to File.

I Know it is Against the Law Not to File.

I Want to Pay My Taxes, But Now I am Afraid It Will Cause More Problems!

Most people who have IRS problems have not filed taxes in a few years. It is frequent problem. You are not alone. Do not be embarrassed. Nearly ten million people have delinquent tax returns. In all my years of practicing before the IRS, I have seen more people who have had a rough patch in their lives that kept them from filing and paying their taxes. IRS problems happen to good people. Some people get sick, and they cannot work. Some people lose their job. It is terrible. There is no money to pay the taxes one year, so they do not file, and the person is afraid to file after that because they do not want to get caught and they certainly do not want to end up in jail. Because worse than not paying your taxes is not filing your return. It is against the law!

So, it is Legal for the IRS to Take the Money
From My Bank Account, from Paycheck, and Sell my House, Car, and All My Possessions?

In one simple word – YES. The IRS has unlimited power. And besides that, you might still owe them money! So even if you have no asset or money today, in the event that you acquire property in the future, the IRS will just take it away from you and keep it for themselves.

Well, At Least I Will Have Money from My Retirement Fund

Actually no. The IRS can take that money, too. They have that much power. As much as you want your IRS problem to go away, it will not. They do not care about you or social security, your pension, your 401K, or your IRA. They are the collection arm of the United States treasury, and if they think you have their money, they will do whatever they must to obtain it. All this can take a devastating toll on you physically, too. It causes sleepless nights and stressful, tired days from all those nights of being awake. It can cause you to feel paranoid, that they are everywhere. They might even knock on your door. To owe taxes, maybe owe even more in penalties, and then have all your savings taken, your paycheck garnished, your property seized. That's no way to live. Stop constantly looking over your shoulder.

Is There Anything I Can Do to Get My Life Back?

Yes, there is. You can get your life back. First, you must decide that you want your life back. You must decide that you are not going to take this anymore and that you want to fix it. Once you make the decision that you want help, and you no longer want to live in fear, or hide from those dreaded IRS notices, phone calls, and visits, you will have taken the biggest step in getting your life back on track. Do not let the IRS bully you into hiding under a rock, in the closet, or under your blankets. There are many ways and options to get your life back. And even better yet, there is a way to protect your savings and your paycheck, a way for you to keep your car!

What Do I Need to Do?

The laws have changed over the years. There are laws to protect taxpayers nowadays. Years ago, you were just at the mercy of the IRS. But now you have a chance to get your life back. You could opt to represent yourself before the IRS. There is the Offer in Compromise program. Many people do go that route. But representing yourself before the IRS is like going to court without a lawyer. I would not recommend it. Or you can hire someone who knows the intricacies of IRS representation and deals with the IRS every day. You can hire someone who knows how to protect your rights. Once you take that first big step and decide you are done with sleepless nights, you need to make the second biggest decision, hire a competent professional who cares about you and is an expert in taking on the IRS.

The only professionals who can represent you before the IRS are attorneys, CPAs, and enrolled agents. There are the only persons on the planet that the IRS recognizes can represent you. Just like a medical doctor is the only person who can prescribe you medication if you are sick, only attorneys, CPAs, and enrolled agents can represent a taxpayer before the IRS. Would you have any doctor prescribe you medication? Would you go to the dermatologist if you had a heart problem? Of course, not. So, should you go to any CPA, attorney, or enrolled agent to manage your IRS Tax problem? It is best to say you should go to a specialist in tax resolution to handle your IRS difficulties.

We, at Pierre Tax Resolution, are experts in tax resolution and help taxpayers with their IRS problems every day.

We Free You from IRS Harassment

What could be better than not to have the IRS stalking and harassing you with letters, phone calls, and appearances at your door? You might wonder how we do this. Once you sign a power of attorney, a document that says we are representing you, the IRS is not allowed to contact you directly any longer. Just like that, you are free from the nightmare of being harassed! The next calls we make are to release the bank levies and wage garnishments against you. Again, you may be wondering how it is possible for us to do this. When the IRS knows an experienced, competent tax resolution professional is working on your case, they know you are serious about resolving your tax problems. We are like an armored shield protecting you. We are the tax resolution “boots on the ground” battalion. We do all the talking to the IRS. We take care of all the phone calls, correspondence, meetings, and negotiations.

Here is how we Help You Get Your Life Back

Many taxpayers do not know what returns to be filed or what they really owe. Their personal or business bookkeeping are a mess or nonexistent. After we register our power of attorney with the IRS, the second step we take is to get all your IRS tax records from the IRS to see where you stand. After that, with your help, we prepare all your delinquent income tax returns and get them filed with the IRS. And lastly, we negotiate the best possible resolution that permanently resolves your IRS difficulties. This may mean doing an offer in compromise, a properly structured installment agreement, currently not collectible status, penalty abatement and more.

Most of this could take place without ever coming to our office. We live in day and age where technology makes it easy for us to represent you no matter where you reside. Of course, you can always come to our office if you prefer, whatever is more convenient for you.

Believe it or not, there new laws that are in effect to help financially strapped taxpayer’s today. The IRS announced its “Fresh Start Initiative” which allows more taxpayers than ever before to settle with the agency. Now is the time to take advantage of these less stringent, more flexible programs before IRS changes the laws again.

The Big Deal

Everything mentioned: the power of attorney, getting your tax transcripts from the IRS, and filing all your back taxes, is preparation for the big deal. We want to see if you are qualified for the IRS Offer in Compromise program, where you pay less than the amount due. Usually, much less than you owe! That is right, there are ways to negotiate with the IRS for the opportunity to substantially reduce your tax debt, penalties, and interest.

But the IRS will not negotiate with us, or help you, if you do not have all your legally required income tax returns filed. And it is not like the IRS has gotten nicer, it is because they want to collect something even if you do not have anything! They would much rather give you a break than collect nothing. But they always try to get as much as they can first. The IRS's Offer in Compromise, or settlement program as it is known, is complex, time consuming, and tedious. It requires someone knowledgeable enough to stand against the IRS when they are not following their own rules and regulations and want you to pay a much higher amount than you should. You need an expert who knows how to preserve your rights!

We have settled many of our clients' cases helping them reduce the amount they owe to the IRS, including getting penalties and interest removed. When I say settle, I mean completely 100%. Once the IRS has accepted the amount your offer and you pay the reduced amount, the IRS releases all federal tax liens. Your IRS nightmare is over, and you get your life back.

And even you do not qualify for an Offer in Compromise, we still might be able to help you reduce the penalties and set up a payment plan that you can afford and get the IRS off your back.

But You Need to Take the First Step!

It is up to you! You have nothing to lose, and the consultation is FREE. Call and schedule an appointment, and we can go over all the ways we can help you. All matters discussed will remain confidential.

Pierre G. Philantrope, LL.M.(Tax), EA.
